Timing Arrangements for In-service Days

Following discussion at the LNCT in relation to the timing arrangements that will be applicable on in-service days, given Edinburgh's asymmetric school week, an agreement has been reached.

It is the purpose of this communication to make a clear statement on the details of the agreement.

Agreement

On a day within a school session, designated as an in-service day, the starting and finishing times should be as for that normal school day. The lengths of any lunch or break times should be as for that normal school day but there may be a variation in their timing throughout the day.
