

Teachers' Gathering 2023

13th May • 10am until 4pm • Glasgow

Providing you with the opportunity to contribute to the continued implementation of LGBT Inclusive Education in Scotland.

We are excited to announce the return of our Teachers' Gathering in May 2023!

This is a free event for Primary and Secondary school teachers in Scotland, held in Glasgow on Saturday 13th May, 10am - 4pm.

"Very useful for networking and starting to enter discussions on LGBT and Inclusive Education... The pace was great and I enjoyed the range of activities that were also included through the day."
- Attendee, 2022

The Teachers' Gathering provides teachers interested in LGBT Inclusive Education the opportunity to contribute to the continued implementation of this work in Scotland.

This event will be of particular benefit to teachers in Primary and Secondary schools who are advancing LGBT Inclusive Education and have an interest in teaching and learning related to equality. Through interactive workshops and collaborative working, The Gathering will include opportunities to:

- Network with teachers across Scotland
- Contribute to national resource development
- Develop ideas for curriculum embedment of LGBT and equalities themes
- Share effective practice in LGBT Inclusive Education
- Learn from colleagues teaching in different settings

"(I learned) To normalise LGBT presence for young people and to support education to help to ultimately remove prejudice or discrimination. To maintain this alongside discussion and inclusion of other protected characteristics too."
- Attendee, 2022

We welcome school teachers from across Primary and Secondary settings in Scotland.

Places at the Gathering are limited and will be allocated in order to ensure a diversity of subject specialties and teaching experience is represented at the event. Catering will be provided.
