

About

Welcome to 'Still We Rise', a new podcast series by the Educational Institute of Scotland – Scotland's largest teaching trade union. The name of this podcast is inspired by the powerful poem by Maya Angelou, which reminds us of our power and resilience in the face of adversity.

Join us to explore how educators and trade unionists can rise up against the influence of the far right in our schools, colleges, universities and wider society.

Full transcripts of our episodes can be found on <https://www.eis.org.uk/equality/stillwerise>
